

RUNWAY FASHIONS

The fall season is upon us and that means mouth-watering pumpkin pastries, brightly colored autumn leaves and, of course, fabulous fall fashions. Here's a look at some of the fashions that graced runways for New York Fashion Week Fall-Winter 2014, courtesy of beautypress.com.

Vintage met old Hollywood glam in the collection from Pamella Roland. "The Great Gatsby" must have inspired much of this collection, given the amount of flapper look-alike dresses. Leather skirts and sequin pants with boxy, thick velvet sweaters were bountiful, and form-fitting dresses with deep V-cuts in lush colors like deep plum and red wine bared arms through sheer black sleeves. Models wore their hair in deep side parts and large finger waves in the front; long hair was brought all to one side over the right shoulder.

Mix textures and prints during the 2014 season but keep them all in the same color family, according to Milly by Michelle Smith's fall/winter 2014 collection. This collection, which gave the casual girl a chic update, featured high-waisted trouser pants with a feminine, thin bow belt and a heavy, metallic-foiled skirt paired with a fuzzy white sweater. Belts were worn over jackets whether they were regular black belts or thin rope belts. Hair was kept parted at the center and either let loose or worn in a low ponytail.

BOLD BROW MUST-HAVE TIPS AND TRICKS

Bold brows are still a hot beauty trend and, thanks to tips shared by celebrity eyebrow specialist Elke Von Freudenberg, getting the perfect brow between appointments is easier than ever.

Von Freudenberg, whose salon is in Manhattan, is considered one of the top eyebrow shaping specialists in the country and is renowned for The Model Brow service. She specializes in fixing and reshaping brows by customizing and enhancing the shape of her clients' brows without stencils. She also offers the elke Brow Collection of brow products. So how can you get the perfect brow (like actress Camilla Belle) at home? Von Freudenberg shares five secrets.

1 DON'T BE OVERWHELMED

You'll need only two to four more rows of hair along the brow to see a difference. And it doesn't mean underneath the brow. Brow growth along the tops of brows helps too, and is easier to grow in.

2 THE RIGHT PRODUCTS

Want a thicker-looking brow? Think of brows like your hair. The right product can create a thicker look. Try applying a clear brow wax, then your brow powder and then a second layer of brow wax. You'll thicken up the look of your brows instantly.

3 GROWTH CYCLES

There are several cycles of hair growth, not just one. Growing in takes time, and a lot of patience.

4 LEARN TO LOVE POWDER

For those over-plucked brows, a pencil can leave a very drawn-in look. Try filling in with brow powder along the tops of the brows for an instantly thicker brow.

5 LET THE PROS DO THE HARD WORK

Most salons focus on giving you a cleaned up, perfect brow. A brow specialist gets you on the right growth plan to keep all the new hairs you've grown in, as well as maintaining the brow so it looks good as it grows in. You can expect to see results and a bolder brow in as little as three to five visits.

Eye on Style writer Antoinette Alexander was born and raised in the Pacific Northwest. She traded in the Space Needle for the Statue of Liberty and today is a beauty-news editor in Manhattan. Despite being thousands of miles away, the Pacific Northwest remains near to her heart. Eager to share with 425 readers the latest in beauty and cosmetic news, Alexander is keeping an "eye on style" as a contributing writer for 425.

