

promise award

nomination form

You can't hide it anymore. You know a special person to nominate for the Promise Award and you're going to explode if you don't tell the whole world. Luckily, you don't have to keep your secret anymore. The space below is your opportunity to boast your unbridled appreciation for a fellow employee. Be sure to describe the challenge, the action your person took, and the results of those actions. Oh yeah, and include those two W's you learned in journalism class —tell us when and where it happened. Give us the whole (brief) story. Other than that, the space below is your canvas. Go ahead, pour your heart out.
