

REPORTER

RED ALERT

According to makeup artist Sam Fine, African-American women tend to shy away from red lipstick because they have a difficult time finding the perfect shade. Fine, Fashion Fair's creative makeup director, aimed to change that with Siren Call—a line of four rich, velvety reds.

"African-American women already have a lot of color in their lips, so I created shades to enhance each skin tone," he says. Here, he matches the right reds to four complexions. —ANDREA ARTERBERY

Tina Fey's Hair Highlights (And Low Points)

As Bossypants readers know, Tina Fey has overcome her hair missteps—so well, in fact, that she's now a spokeswoman for Garnier Nutrisse hair color. Here, her best (and most, er, interesting) styles.

—KATE SULLIVAN

{ SWIPE
to read the timeline }

