

Carol E. Jordan: University of Kentucky's featured faculty

Dear Jane,

I thought you'd be interested in checking out the University of Kentucky's Expert Gallery. Carol E. Jordan, whose work focuses on violence against women and related civil and criminal justice issues, is a featured expert! Browse her published articles on her Expert Gallery profile page.

The Expert Gallery is an invaluable resource for sharing articles, books, presentations, and other media from both faculty and staff. You can learn more about how the Expert Gallery showcases talented scholars in our recent webinar.

Please have a look!

Best,
Karen

Vassar 2016 Senior Capstone Projects discuss hot-button issues

Dear John,

I thought you'd be interested in browsing Vassar's 2016 Senior Capstone Projects, currently available on Vassar College Library's institutional repository.

These recent grads address the current social climate and complex issues such as race and safe spaces, religion and public health, and how the pursuit of ratings threatens the integrity of cable news.

You can also browse through engaging student and faculty research in our Education Collection.

Please take a look!

Best,
Karen

USC Law showcases faculty research

Dear Joan,

I thought you might want to see the trending research topics at the University of Southern California Law's Expert Gallery. Their featured experts are sharing scholarly works on subjects such as developmental psychology, legal design, and criminal law.

The Expert Gallery is used by institutions to promote faculty and student research, and open doors for professional collaboration and funding opportunities. You can learn more about its many benefits in our recent webinar.

Please check it out!

Best,
Karen