

Swag, Swag

Come prepared this year with gear appropriate for every stage. Save yourself from the sun with a Something Wicked hat, show your public spirit with a commemorative flag, and keep warm during that late night set with a decorative hoodie or long sleeve tee. We've got options, and want you to go home with the best merch to keep the inevitable memories flowing long after your favorite artist hits the stage.

Lock-it-up

Don't worry about your things while you're trying to enjoy the show, secure a locker to store your precious items and come back at any time to grab and go! Enjoy your time; we've got security on deck. You'll get an 8x11x17" locker with access all day to your belongings, but reserve these babies in advance before they sell out!

Please bring your merchandise ticket and ID inside the festival grounds to the locker rental station to redeem your purchase.

Get Some Juice

Capturing every sick moment of Something Wicked is so important, which is why we offer pre-charged portable battery packs (2200mAh) to help your Android or iPhone stay alive. They're tiny, so they can fit in your pocket or backpack and will be your savior during that last set of the night. At only $15, it's an easy 'yes' for this one, with replacements being only $5 if it runs out of juice!

You can pre-purchase and pick up prior to the festival, sorry, we're not mailing these babies out beforehand. Please bring your merchandise ticket and ID inside the festival grounds to the locker rental station to redeem your purchase.

Wrist Jewels

One of the best parts of experiencing a sick festival are the visuals. These silicone bracelets are programmed to flash, fade and strobe in rainbow colors to the beat of the music. Basically, the entire crowd will be on the same wavelength as the music bumps with visuals on point; thank you technology.

Glow Motion Bracelets are not mailed prior to the festival. Please bring your merchandise ticket and ID inside the festival grounds to the Glow Motion booth to redeem your purchase.

Purr-fect Glow

Let your ears lead the way! Our rainbow strobing cat ears are about to be the talk of the festival, flashing and fading to the beat of the music! Go with the flow and let your ears do the talking with these sick LED glowing cat ears.

Glow Motion Cat Ears are not mailed prior to the festival. Please bring your merchandise ticket and ID inside the festival grounds to the Glow Motion booth to redeem your purchase.

The Thirst is Real

Rule #1 – STAY HYDRATED. We've got Something Wicked water bottle swag ready to be purchased and reused. Do not underestimate the importance of drinking enough water while out in the hot sun all day partying like it's 1999, and you might as well travel in style with the festival logo slapped on the side.

Water Bottles are not mailed prior to the festival. Please bring your merchandise ticket and ID inside the festival grounds to the merchandise booth to redeem your purchase.

Know Shade

Complete your festival outfit with some light up shades, y'all. Whether you're into the shutter shade look, aviator or two-toned style frames, these babies are rimmed with an electroluminescent wire, glowing up at three different speeds. You can snag a pair at the Spectified tent, or personalize your own beforehand with an online pre-order. Regardless, you'll have your eye candy ready for the first set of Something Wicked!

Spectified Shades are not mailed prior to the festival. Please bring your merchandise ticket and ID inside the festival grounds to the Spectified booth to redeem your purchase.
