

Los Angeles, CA – May 24, 2013 – Of Dreams To Come: Robert Glasper, is a full-length documentary feature on the Blue Note/Capital Records recording artist. Now in production, Emmy nominated director J. Kevin Swain takes us for 75 minutes, alongside Robert Glasper as he and his group the Robert Glasper Experiment tour the world.

Interspersed with moments from the band's live performances with the featured cities of Shanghai, China, the flair of Sao Paulo and more, the film allows a one on one experience with Robert Glasper at this pivotal stage of his life and career. Swain adds, "It's my hope that this tour film embodies the soul and inspiration of Herbie Hancock, Sugar Chile Robinson and even Count Basie; I'm trying to take it there."

The film is a collection of moments that create one piece of work where one can share in the personal experiences of this band, explore the "new," and re-visit familiar surroundings that allow them the freedom to "do what they do best": Turn the definition of "music" on its head and evolve into a new sound that refreshes, inspires and entertains the world over.

Over the next thirty days, with the help of Indiegogo, we are raising support for the making of this film. Partnership is essential for the growth of this project and in order to see its sky high potential manifested, we ask that you help us in making this vision a reality. To contribute to this project, visit igg.me/at/ofdreamstocome

"I want to give thanks to all of you for your overwhelming support... I really want to thank you guys and I think this is a great way to do it by making something like this happen." – Robert Glasper

This is "Of Dreams To Come."