MEDIA ALERT

NBA Ambassador Muggsy Bogues Touches Lives On the USA Dream Team Tour

(New York) --Muggsy Bogues will be in Herald Square this Friday 4-7pm as part of his first stop on the MetroPCS USA Dream Tour. Muggsy Bogues, the NBA all-star himself, will be speaking about his journey to the NBA while offering words of encouragement, teaching the fundamental techniques of basketball and ending with a meet and greet for the fans.

“The Dream Tour is all about sharing with the fans how our dream has become reality and the steps it took to get there. I look forward to meeting some great people and teaching them to always believe.” Muggsy Bogues

Muggsy was in the NBA for over 10 years. At 5’3, Muggsy had to prove that his dream can come true by breaking records on the basketball court, in order to confirm that he belonged. He became the living personification that anything is possible with hard work and an intense passion for the game. Bogues wants to spread the message that no matter how big or small, as long as you have heart and believe in yourself, anything is possible. If you’ve always wanted to meet the players you love and never thought it was possible well here is your chance.
