

Chris Laney
Mission Statement

God first. My best characteristics stem from the understanding that this is true.

I will always understand that “quality of life” means something different than money, power, and success.

I don’t allow others to define what success is.

I will strive to lead my family to be God loving citizens that compassionately dedicate their lives to the betterment of society.

I will adapt to my environment as my environment is always changing.

I will be a servant-leader and strive to lead with humility. As a leader, I will demonstrate the ability to do anything I put my mind to.

I will be a person that others see as filled with real integrity both personally and professionally. I want others to see me as someone who demonstrated honest in every life transaction.

I want the following characteristics to be the description, my peers see in me:

Compassion
Integrity
Humility
Hard-working

I will constantly work to refine who I am whether it’s physically, emotionally, or spiritually. I will be a lifetime learner and will do what I can to teach others what others have taught me.

I will embrace life and want life to embrace me.
